

Community Rock Garden

During conversations the Agents of Change focused on the idea that everyone has a story to tell and inquiring about peoples stories could promote a sense of belonging. They conversed about "access" and discussed access to materials to make art. The Agents of Change wanted to create art work with their community that included a material that everyone had access to. The Agents of Change planned the Community Rock Garden installation. The Agents of Change invited the school community and surrounding community to participate by locating a rock and tell a story of how it represents them.
